New England Folk Festival	http://www.neffa.org/		Mansfield	MA	The NEFFA Festival (also known as The New England Folk Festival) is a fabulous blend of dance, music, crafts, and food from many lands. The 2017 Festival, our 73rd annual Festival, is tentatively scheduled for April 21-23, 2017 in Mansfield, Massachusetts (near Boston).	We receive applications for more events than we have space for at the Festival. While we try to include as many different performers as possible, your event will have a better chance of being scheduled if it is participatory in nature, tradition-based, intended for the general public, and you are very flexible about when you are willing to perform. We seek events run by people who have excellent performance, teaching and/or leadership skills, and who approach their material with a positive, inclusive attitude. Particularly for dance events, we prefer to use live music whenever possible.

This grassroots festival strives to push the envelope by erasing style barriers in order to create a truly unique and exciting musical atmosphere. The result is a six-day long musical gumbo where festival goers sample music performed by the most talented, "undiscovered" artists currently making music in the northeast.	Our mission is to showcase the Northeast's best original, live music. Recently, we've been receiving submissions from bands located around the nation prompting us to consider the fact that soon we'll be showcasing some of the best bands in the United States. Our main concern is the quality and vibe of your music. The BIMF features a wide variety of musical styles so just because your band plays "improvisational klezmer punk", don't assume you won't be accepted. The BIMF is especially looking for artists who are sometimes a bit off kilter.

The Old Firehouse Concert Series	www.tinmouthvt.org/old-fire-house/	Dupont Brothers	Tinmouth	VT	The Old Firehouse Concert Series draws some of the area's finest musicians AND enthusiastic music fans to our wonderful stage in the center of Tinmouth, Vermont. The Old Firehouse Stage is a beautiful, simple space with fantastic sound. The space seats up to 80 people. The Concert Series books five to six events each Spring and Fall, every-other Friday evening at 7:30 pm. The suggested donation is $10-$15, collected at the door. 90% of this goes to the performers, and the balance goes to support the Old Firehouse.
The Basement Music Series at the Masonic Hall (Vermont Arts Exchange)	http://vtartxchange.org/music/	Dupont Brothers, Ghost of Paul Revere, Kat Wright and the Indomitable Soul Band, Peter Mulvey, Session Americana	North Bennington	VT	In the winter of 2004 VAE converted the downstairs basement studio in an old brick mill into a cabaret-club. The plan was to present once a month, high quality music that was culturally diverse. The people come for one reason, to listen to music, and this what the bands love the most about presenting their art. The intimate setting in which they perform allows for an experience that both artist and audience go home not forgetting and anticipating a return. In moving to the Masonic Hall, we have brought along the same ingredients to create the vibe and listening room you've come to love. We hope you enjoy yourselves and spread the word!

St Louis, MO	I Went To a Show	http://iwenttoashow.com/	I Went To A Show.com is a non-profit, St. Louis-based music blog featuring previews, reviews, interviews, photography, ticket giveaways, original illustrations, and more. It is authored and maintained by four friends. IWTAS exists to strengthening our city's music community by empowering fans with valuable, accessible information about excellent local and touring musicians and great concert venues.
St. Louis, MO	LO-FI SAINT LOUIS	http://lofistl.com/	"LO-FI SAINT LOUIS was launched in February of 2005 with high hopes and low expectations. I'm happy to say that looking back that my hopes for the site have nearly all come to pass and my all expectations have been exceeded. The original primary focus of this blog was to cover the local music scene in St. Louis, but over time I've expanded that focus to include other things and happenings in town that strike my interest. So on any given week you may find in addition to the music, mini documentary features about an artist or another event."
St. Louis, MO	Riverfront Times	http://posting.riverfronttimes.com/stlouis/ContactUs/Page	The Riverfront Times was founded in 1977 as St. Louis's alternative newsweekly. Since then, we've cultivated an audited weekly circulation of 55,000. Because of the pass-along nature of the RFT, our weekly reach is near 200,000 readers. The Riverfront Times focuses on the issues that are important to St. Louis's young adults. Each week, hundreds of thousands of readers turn to the RFT for award-winning journalism, powerful investigative reporting, news and commentary on local politics, and the most comprehensive arts and entertainment coverage in the St. Louis area.

Washington DC	Listen Local First	http://www.listenlocalfirst.com/	Listen Local First DC (LLF) is a local music initiative devoted to building awareness and creating opportunities for local musicians and venues in order to raise the profile of DC's local music scene. LLF was born out of a collaborative effort with Think Local First DC and seeks to partner with local musicians, local arts organizations, local venues and locally owned businesses to create performance opportunities and new avenues for local music exploration. LLF's mission is not genre specific. In order to promote the true cultural depth of DC's music scene LLF would seek to equally represent all local genres, from folk to funk.

Song of the Year	http://www.songoftheyear.com/	Ten categories. In every contest, we select one winner and four finalists from each of the ten categories (50 songs total). Those songs are sent out to major/minor labels, publishers, entertainment attorneys, music managers and many other outlets who we have relationships with. These are resources who have agreed to review the top songwriters. As a category "winner" or "finalist", your information will be distributed accordingly for further consideration. Should there be interest in your material, our resources will contact you directly (all offers, deals and other agreements are conducted directly between you and the interested organization). All entries submitted into the contest will remain 100% the ownership of the songwriter. When it has been determined that you are a "category winner" in any of the ten categories, you will be awarded the prizes as listed here. It is possible to place as a winner in multiple categories. The Song of the Year songwriting contest offers ten categories so that everyone has a category that best fits their songwriting style. The ten categories are: Pop, Country, Lyric Only, Rock, Instrumental, Hip-Hop, Christian, Adult Contemporary, Folk and Dance.
